Jumbo Quail Care Guidelines

Incubation of Eggs

- Temperature: 99.5 degrees
- Humidity: 50-60%
- Duration: 18 days incubation

Live Care

- Quail need heat to maintain a temperature of 99 degrees for up to 3 weeks. Decrease the heat source by 5 degrees weekly until the outside temperature is reached.
- Feed 18 – 30%-layer mash.
- Maintain food and water source 24/7.
- Quail should be kept out of the wind.
- Enclosure should not be tall (a rabbit hutch or something similar with pull out tray works well)

We sell live and frozen quail for feeders. Periodically our live quail are bought as a pet or in breeding clusters. These are live animals that we do stand by. We ask customers to call us with any issues. We will offer a one-time replacement on any pets if they become ill or die within one week of purchase.
